

I Can and I Will Guild benefiting Uncompensated Care at Seattle Children's

Our guild formed in 2019 in honor of Olivia Vitello.

When Olivia was just six years old, she was diagnosed with a rare genetic disorder called Morquio, which impacts a child's bones, spine, organs and physical abilities. A standard treatment plan for this type of condition can cost nearly $30,000 every week. Even with strong medical insurance, families experience significant out-of-pocket expenses.

Olivia and her mom have approached this diagnosis, and everything in life with the mantra: "I can. And I WILL." It's this mantra that gets Olivia through weekly infusions and has inspired her family to find a way to give back to Seattle Children's and the patients and families it serves.

We can only do this through the support of a generous community. We hope you will join us in our efforts to ensure every child that walks through the doors at Seattle Children's has access to the expert medical care, regardless of a family's ability to pay.
